OPINIONS OF WHAT IS TO BE DONE ABOUT COAST PROSPERITY

Pass Christian Writer Has Secured Ideas on Permanent Prosperity for the Coast Area and Presents Them.

By W. D. ROBINSON
Pass Christian.

What is best to be done about developing the Mississippi Gulf Coast and the creation of conditions that will bring permanent prosperity? That is a question that is being discussed by many people in the coast region.

With the idea of having a public discussion on the subject, I am seeking the opinions of citizens and visitors who stand for something and whose views command the attention and respect of others.

Everyone realizes that something must be done to remedy the situation that has existed on the coast. That is the unanimous verdict of all those who have given the matter any thought.

Climate conditions on the Mississippi Coast are unsurpassed. Pure water and fresh sea breezes make the coast the equal of any health resort. The soil is fertile and will produce bountiful crops. No better section for live stock or dairying can be found. Raw materials for manufacturing purposes are abundant.

With these natural advantages many pay rolls can be created and the agricultural resources and dairying developed. Pay rolls, agricultural development and live stock raising would give stability to the coast. It is up to the people to use these resources and advantages.

Among the men whose views I have sought are Leo W. Seal, George R. Rea, Robert L. Genin and Judge J. A. DeLoach of Bay St. Louis.

Mr. Seal is cashier of the First National Bank of Gulfport. Mr. Rea is president of the Merchants Bank and Trust Company and president of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Genin represented Hancock county in the legislature several terms and is city attorney of Bay St. Louis. Judge DeLoach is secretary of the Peoples' Building and Loan Association of Bay St. Louis and has held the office of justice of the peace for many years. All of them are well known along the coast.

Mr. Seal is of the opinion that much can be done by local people toward improving conditions.

"As I see it," Mr. Seal said, "there are several lines of business on the coast that can be developed or expanded. One is the oyster industry. That is an important industry today but it can be branched into one of much larger proportions. Coast waters would with the proper efforts, produce many more oysters than are now produced. This would increase both the raw oyster and canning trades. Some additional legislation may be necessary, but this can be obtained. The legislature has shown a friendly disposition toward the coast in enacting laws for this section.

"Development of the fishing industry would be another source of profit for the coast. We ought to have increased facilities here for fishing. People naturally like to fish. Many more would come here to fish if facilities were improved.

"Deep sea fishing should also be developed. Vessels should be equipped to go out into the Gulf of Mexico and catch fish in cargo lots. There is always a market for fish. People in the interior cities and towns are glad to get salt water fish.

"Agriculturally speaking, I believe that there are great possibilities in the development of the strawberry and dairying industries. Experience has shown that the finest varieties of strawberries in the early spring when the berries command the best prices on the markets.

"Last fall an organized movement was launched to establish the scale berry industry on the coast on a scale sufficient to warrant car lot shipments. The berry crop is now coming on the market. So far the results have been satisfactory.

"Dairying, in my opinion, can be developed into a big business in the coast area. With an abundant supply of water and plenty of land available for pasturage and the production of forage crops, no section of the country is superior to ours for live stock raising. Markets are available for all the milk that can be produced on the coast. We not only have out local markets but we have a short distance to New Orleans. I understand New Orleans is now importing milk from Illinois to supply the people of that city.

"In addition to these markets, when a supply of milk is assured, factors will come to the coast on a process or consignment basis for local sale. There will be no trouble about getting plants established on the coast when they have assurance of a supply of milk.

"Opportunity is open to make money on the coast by establishing wood reduction plants. Enough pine stumps are available in the coast section to supply wood reduction plants for many years. These pine stumps contain chemicals that are valuable to commerce and industry.

"After the chemicals are extracted the stumps can be used for fuel for the manufacture of paper making. There is a waste about a wood reduction plant.

"George R. Rea named two things that can be done on the coast.

CHAS. G. MOREAU,

re-elected president of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club Wednesday, is publisher of the Sea Coast Echo, president of the Peoples Building and Loan Association, vice-president of the Merchants Bank & Trust Company and vice-president of the staff Chamber of Commerce. The staff of the Echo, taking advantage of Mr. Moreau's absence, have secured his picture for this issue.

JOHN J. FAYARD ANNOUNCES FOR CONSTABLE BEAT 5

Life Long Resident of Beat Five—Well Known and Acquainted Over County.

I hereby take this means and method of announcing myself as a candidate for the office of Constable for District No. 5, subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries in the coming election. Born and raised in Hancock county 33 years ago, I have lived my entire life in beat 5, and therefore feel that I am personally acquainted with almost every voter in the entire district. I have always endeavored to do what was right, live an honest and upright life in my social as well as my business relations. In a previous election I announced myself for the same office and although I did not receive enough votes to elect me to the office, I did receive a handsome and substantial vote in the entire district, having carried my home town, Waveland by a large and substantial majority, which I submit as one of the best evidences of the standing of any candidate in the community in which he lives.

I feel that I am well fitted and qualified to hold the office and should the voters of the district favor me with their ballot by election to office, I will appreciate it and will try to show that appreciation by doing my best to serve the community and to show that appreciation to any one who may be interested in the same.

CONVICT HANCOCK COUNTY MEN FOR LIQUOR DEALING

Prison Terms Are Assessed By Federal Court Judge At Biloxi for "Big Operations."

Three Hancock county men were convicted in United States federal court at Biloxi Wednesday for liquor dealings. Fred Curet of Kiln was given a sentence of five years in the Atlanta penitentiary, and his brother George Curet, also of Kiln, was given a five-year suspended sentence. Bill Hodde, alleged to be in the employ of the Curets, was given a year and a day in the penitentiary.

It is reported that the Curet gang manufactured more than 250,000 gallons of liquor and made over $250,000 in this dealing, according to the government. It was alleged that negotiations are made by the Curets with the leading illicit liquor dealers in the various towns of this district and liquor transportation are directed to go to the homes or places of operation of the various cargo of intoxicants. The transporters it was pointed out do not bring any money or make any down payment for the liquors, the payments being made by the various dealers direct to the Curets.

It is alleged that the Curets have been engaged in the liquor business over five years and that their operations have been more extensive than any others in the district.

GULF PARK FROLICS GIVEN MONDAY NIGHT AT CENTRAL SCHOOL

Production by Singers and Dancers from Coast Institution Sponsored by Rotary Club

Fifty students of Gulf Park College delighted a large Bay St. Louis audience Monday night when they presented a variety program billed as Footlight Frolics at the Central High School auditorium under the auspices of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club for the benefit of the night school which the club conducts in cooperation with the state vocational department. For several years the college through the courtesy of President Richard G. Cox, a former district president of Rotary, gives an entertainment at Bay St. Louis and this year the production was equal to if not superior to any former presentation.

The Glee Club under the direction of Miss Edith Jane Fish, was assisted in the program by the dancing club, the Piouett and the orchestra, the Anchor Girls, while some readings were furnished by the expression department. The program so designed that music and dancing coordinated. A charming ensemble, ably presented by the lovely girls who composed the cast. Voices were especially lovely in the choral work as well as the more individualized numbers. Dancing was rhythmic and attractive. The program was a real treat to the audience.

Following the program the Rotary Club was host at a social period entertaining the students and the faculty members accompanying them and serving refreshments in the home science department at the home of members of this department in charge.

COLLEGE PLAY THIS SUNDAY

"Toastmaster" to be presented at S. S. C. Gym at 8 P. M.

"The Toastmaster" a college comedy in three acts will be presented by the students of St. Stanislaus College Sunday, April 26th at 8 P. M.

When the Freshmen set out to capture the Sophomore toastmaster and hold him prisoner until after the Sophomore banquet has been given, it's only fair to expect some lively action—and this play is no disappointment. Bill Morgan (Cecil Holland) gets a tip that "Towel" Fairfax (Gene Robichaux) has been hidden in the home of Professor Reed (Paul Labry) and goes there disguised as a servant in order to search the place. Bill—who makes a handsome girl is promptly hired, and then the fun begins. Cynthia Reed (Bob Smythe) thinks that the new maid is sweet enough to kiss and that's all right with Bill as he is deeply in love with Cynthia.

Prof. Reed even contemplates a kiss, but Mrs. Reed (Teddy Posner) intervenes and leads him off by the ear. There is a great comedy scene when Tony Soscha (Dominic Genard) tries to make love in the Italian fashion. Henry Reed (John Hickman) and Tom Ripley (Gene Lyons) have a hard time keeping the Toastmaster hidden from view. Buzzer Reed (Henry Toledo) mixes the plot considerably, but "Towel" is finally rescued in the nick of time for the banquet. There will be plenty of fun for all.

PASS CHRISTIAN GROUP PRESENTS SUCCESSFUL PLAY

Benefit Performance for Local Hospital Tuesday Night Received High Praise

Quite the most successful amateur production ever witnessed in Bay St. Louis was the play, Captain Applejack, given Tuesday night at St. Joseph's Academy auditorium by a group of Pass Christian players, presented under the direction of Mrs. Thornhill Broome, whose happy hobby is plays and young people and when she combines the two the result is highly delightful. A good sized audience assembled to witness the play despite the heavy rains which fell at assembly time. The proceeds, said to be a nice sum, were donated to the King's Daughters Emergency Hospital. Mrs. Broome has been much interested in hospitals and is a King's Daughter member, and kindly gave the play for the local hospital.

Minor Sutter played the lead enacting the role of Ambrose Applejohn in an artistic manner. This talented young artist designed, built, painted and executed the stage and all effects, Jos. W. Sumrall did the wiring. The women characters in the play were presented by Mrs. Peggy Gause as Poppy Fair, Miss Katherine Northrop as Mrs. Agatha Whatcombe; Mrs. Hazel Adam Woods as Anna Valeska; Miss Myrtle Spence as Mrs. Pengard. Mrs. McDonald has been identified prominently with P. T. A. work in Hancock county several years. Two members of the nominating committee reside in Gulfport, namely, Mrs. E. T. Reimann, chairman and Mrs. J. E. Heiss, the others of this committee being Mrs. M. H. White, Olive Branch; Mrs. D. V. Mullins, Anguilla; Mrs. Cliff Davis, Amory. THREE PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM JAIL TUESDAY NIGHT

Dig Way to Liberty Through Brick Wall—Capture Not Reported.

Three prisoners made their escape from the Hancock County jail last Tuesday night by removing bricks from the foundation of the steel cage on the lower floor and then by removing a ventilator near the ground.

The trio were Frank Clark and Percy Graeber, convicted at the last term of the circuit court for the theft of an automobile, the property of Mr. Smith, L. & N. section foreman, and Clyde Willis, who was awaiting trial on a charge of grand larceny.

Clark and Graeber, who gave their address as some town in Pennsylvania, are two white boys, neither of whom have reached full manhood. It is a certainty that outside help was given the parties, as it was evident that they could not have removed the bricks otherwise.

Sheriff Jones, on learning of the jail-breaking notified officers at all nearby points but up to the hour when the Echo was put to press no word of their capture had been reported.

GOOD PLANK TO ADOPT.

Clinton W. Gilbert, one of the best informed press correspondents at Washington, believes that a compromise plank on the question of prohibition will be adopted by the platform committee of the next national Democratic convention. He suggests that the plank could read: "We favor the retention of the Eighteenth Amendment. But the Democratic party having always stood for state's rights, we favor the adoption of a new amendment under which States, wherein a majority of the people are opposed to prohibition, may modify the existing prohibition in accordance with public sentiment within them. However, we believe that such an amendment should provide against the return anywhere in the United States of the 'open saloon.'" Such a plank would, or should be, acceptable to the recognized "dry" States and at the same time be satisfactory to "wet" States. Above all else, if the Democratic party should steer clear of an open clash on the question of prohibition, and such a compromise plank ought to be acceptable to both "wets" and "drys." Never in the history of our party has its chances for victory been so bright as it is today. It should capitalize on the mistakes of the Hoover administration and let nothing occur which might bring about discord and a lack of harmony within our party ranks.

THE WAY OF THE TRANSGRESSOR IS HARD.

The sheriff of Colbert county, Alabama, was found guilty by a federal court jury on charges of conspiring to violate the prohibition laws and his sentence was fixed at two years in the Atlanta penitentiary. He also was fined $1,000. "The way of the transgressor is hard," so sayeth the Good Book.

WILL SOON BE TOO LATE.

A correspondent of the Jackson Daily News in a recent communication presents some strong arguments in favor of game protection and declares that "more laws are needed to conserve wild life in Mississippi." The time is drawing near when steps must be taken in that direction by our lawmakers or else it will be too late to save this most valuable State asset.

EXPECTS TO COME BACK.

Somehow or other we have a little sympathy deep down in our heart for Alfonso XIII, the ex-King of Spain, who doffed his crown and got out of his country "while the getting was good." He entertains an idea that his former subjects will soon tire of a republican form of government and he will again be called back to his old job.

LET THE GOOD WORK CONTINUE.

Four New Orleans bandits have been sentenced to be hung for the murder of a grocery store proprietor who was shot to death when they were endeavoring to escape after robbing the Rocheblave branch of the Canal Bank and Trust Company a few months since. Let the good work continue!

ELECTED TO CONGRESS.

Hon. John H. Overton has been elected to Congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Congressman J. B. Aswell. He was supported by Governor Huey P. Long, who it seems is still a big power in Louisiana politics.

JUST A SUGGESTION.

Jack Dempsey is in Reno for a divorce, and a columnist in one of our exchanges remarks that "this proves he was sincere when he said he was through with the fight game."

The Catholic population of the United States for 1930 was 20,091,593, an increase of 13,391 over the preceding year, the official Catholic directory for 1931, reveals. The number of converts to Catholicism, according to the directory, is 39,523, representing a gain of 1,296.

Harry E. Rowbottom, a former Republican congressman from Indiana, has been convicted and sentenced to serve a term in a federal prison. His offense was accepting bribes for securing the appointment of two men to positions in the postal service.

Gulfport lost one of its best and most highly esteemed citizens last Friday when Brannon Curry Bowen passed away. He was a native Mississippian, being born at Shubuta on January 17, 1876. He was an active member of several civic organizations and interested in a number of Gulfport business enterprises at the time of his death.

Scientists propose the digging of a shaft 3 miles deep in order to find out what is going on within the earth's crust. By the time that the next presidential election comes around, the people may conclude that it is a convenient hole into which to drop the entire Republican administration.

OUTCOME OF SUIT AWAITED WITH INTEREST.

Suit has been filed in the chancery court of Forrest county against the Teche Transfer Company asking that it be denied use of highways of the State in the operation of their buses for passenger transportation. The suit was filed by Dudley W. Conner, and among other allegations he argues that the weight of the vehicles together with their width constitute a menace to the roads as well as to persons traveling thereon. He also argues that the company is depriving the railroads of legitimate transportation business, forcing a reduction in the number of trains operated and working a hardship on the employees through unemployment. It is the first suit of its kind to be filed in the State, and the outcome of same will be awaited with interest. Inasmuch as bus and motor truck companies contribute nothing to the construction and maintenance of the State's roads and highways, and leaving out altogether the element of danger to the lives of travelers arising from their operation, it seems to us that a fair minded court cannot do other than sustain the allegations of the complainant.

SEVERELY CRITICIZED.

Secretary of State Stimson's announcement that American forces would not be landed in Nicaragua to protect the lives and property of Americans in that country has been severely criticized by the press of both this country and that of Latin America. The policy adopted by the Washington administration, for which Secretary Stimson speaks, is at a variance with that announced by former Secretary Hughes who in addressing the Pan-American Conference in 1928 said that "the United States cannot renounce the principle that when the government of one country is unable to function owing to insurmountable difficulties another government would be fully justified in protecting the lives and property of nationals. American lives have been sacrificed and millions of dollars' worth of American property destroyed by revolutionary forces in Central American countries in the recent past, and the position taken by Secretary Stimson, it seems to us, is wholly out of keeping with what is demanded in the present instance. But then we must remember we no longer have a Roosevelt in the White House nor a Hughes at the head of our State department.

ON THE WRONG TRACK.

And now, Mr. Ernest Lee Jahneke, President Hoover's assistant secretary of the navy, got "on the air" the other night and said that industrial development and commercial expansion in the South has been retarded "because the South has allowed an inexcusable habit to deprive it of the political protection of a two-party system." Mr. Jahneke is a native Southerner, born, bred and raised in New Orleans, and withal one of the finest gentlemen anybody could wish to meet, but he is away off the track if he believes the South will abandon its opposition toward the policies of his party. The decent white element of Southern citizenship will never adopt the two-party system, great as might be the industrial and commercial advantages it offers, until the Republican party in the South is lead and controlled by negroes and a few white federal office-holders.

IN A TICKLISH POSITION.

The death of Speaker Nicholas Longworth has put the Republicans in a ticklish position and they are facing defeat in the election of his successor. Owing to the fact that the House membership is so evenly divided, and the probability of a Democrat being elected to the vacancy occasioned by Mr. Longworth's death, together with the threatened loss of a number of Progressive Republican members when it comes time for organizing the new House, almost assures the election of any Democratic member placed in nomination. President Hoover has announced that he will pursue a "hands off" policy, in the election of a speaker, asserting that it is "solely the function of the House." For once Herbert may be credited with exhibiting a small amount of good sense.

MUSIC CLUBS CONDEMN CANNED MUSIC.

The exclusive use of mechanical music in theatres and other places of amusement was condemned by the Federation of Music Clubs and the Music Teachers' Association of Louisiana at their convention held in New Orleans last week. Most of the "canned" music heard in such places is the work of trained artists, and the public prefers it to the out-of-tune instrumental music and the screeching voices of amateurs.

OLD TOM STILL HAS HOPES.

A recount of the votes cast in November will be made by the Senate elections sub-committee at the request of poor old Tom Heflin who was snowed under by Hon. John H. Bankhead. Perhaps a lot of time will be lost and a goodly sum of money will be spent in counting the ballots and in the end the committee will find that Mr. Bankhead was fairly elected to the job which old Tom had disgraced for several years.

HARD TO FIGURE.

Henry Ford, the world's greatest manufacturer of "Tin Lizzies," last week drove from his factory to his home in Detroit in the 20,000,000th car turned out at his plant. His average profit on all model automobiles put on the market by him has been estimated to be around $400. Figure it for yourself and you will have a fair idea of how much Henry is worth.

TOO LATE TO BE SORRY.

"It is too late to be sorry," as Southern Hoovers will learn when they find that their disloyalty and treachery to the party of their fathers has not been forgotten. Yet there are some of them possessing the monumental gall to seek office at the hands of the Democratic party.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS By Chicagoan

Chicago, Ill., April 21.—Come, my kindred spirits, let's make a visionary trip to Bay St. Louis. Let's read the Echo, and go there in fancy, even if the pleasure of a actual journeying thither is denied us.

My copy of last week's Echo tells me that had I been so fortunate as to reach Bay St. Louis last week, I would have seen the additional startling news being done on the E. V. Richards estate, and in my mind's eye I can now see any number of residents learning more about beautifying their grounds from the landscape artist Mr. Allen.

And of course, one of the first men I'd meet upon my arrival in Bay St. Louis would be Robt. L. Genin, now a candidate for Representative from Hancock county.

As in many other states roads and revenue are two of Mississippi's leading problems. The legislature may soon be convened in a special session which will consider just those questions. It is essential that Hancock county's number of the lower house understand the issues before the legislature and it is also advisable that he have experience in the ways of lawmaking bodies. The Echo tells us that "Bob" Genin possesses just the proper qualifications for the important post to which he aspires. It is desirable for the good of the county and the state that voters recognize Mr. Genin's capabilities when they go to the polls on Saturday next.

You know, I might have driven over some muddy roads, myself while on my imaginary trip to Bay St. Louis, provided I had an automobile to make the trip. In that case my bus might be covered with Tennessee mud. But would I worry about that? Not a great deal perhaps, but if I couldn't get it washed at the Bay Chevrolet Company, pray tell me where else the job could be done.

"Grouchy Gus," the perpetual rainy day" butts in to say that if I have a car at all it's probably one of the beaten old rattle. And that I need only drive up to a filling station to get it washed. One of the attendants would just "dunk" it in a can and call it a job. So, says Gus, I needn't worry about the absence of service station ads in last week's Echo.

To some people, as you know, thoughts of even a visionary trip brings only visions of motor-ing. But I'm built somewhat along the lines of those who like a good walk now and then. Don't think of walking in uncomfortable shoes, however! If you do, away goes all the desire for this healthful pastime. But even at that, Breath's Haberdashery brings back the urge again with their advertisement of "Friendly Fives," so named because of the low price at which they sell. Walk all day in a pair of those comfortable foot-covers, and at night the old "dogs" will curl up under you and laugh.

And had I arrived in Bay St. Louis last Friday, I could have listened that night to the wonderful rendition of "The Lost Necklace," in which members of the Schubert Club so distinguished themselves. "Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast," said a wise man of the by-gone days. Well, maybe by breast is more savage that I care to admit, but anyhow, could I have listened to the singing and dancing, my sometimes harried mind would have been rested.

Then last Sunday, you'd have found me with the Panthers when they met defeat at the hands of the proud sons of Ocean Springs. There was disappointment, I know, when the final 5 to 0 score was announced. But let the supporters of the losers be consoled. During the recent days of Hoover prosperity many have sighed, "there goes my ball game," when they didn't see a sign of a bat or padded glove. Some of us mighty might have added, "cells, though. But we've survived, and now we're ready for another 'game'."

One need not seek vainly for entertainment while in Bay St. Louis. For there is always the A. G. Theater with its programs of the very latest contributions of the film world. The managers of Bay St. Louis' showhouse don't believe in hiding their lights in empty houses. That's why, so many folks have learned through their advertisements that the Bay does screen productions of times before they are shown in the bigger cities. So in the matter of movie entertainment, too, the old town holds its own with New Orleans, Chicago and New York.

This week's Echo will announce the officers chosen by the Rotary directors whose election was chronicled last week. While official posts in this most useful organization are a great honor and responsibility, you will hear of no campaign being carried on for the high positions. Each and every member of Rotary realizes his duties, and each one knows that he has work to perform whether or not he is elected to an office.

And next winter, I'd like to sit on the back porch with Horace W. Avery who the Echo tells me, has achieved seventy-three useful years. I'd make my visit in the afternoon, for I had my way and the golden sun-drip-

CURRENT COMMENT

For The Sea Coast Echo.

Nicholas Longworth, Speaker of the House, is dead and buried. His genial disposition endeared him to many who could not agree with his policies. He was a good party man looking upon political affiliation as a means of service, rather than a joke. Until public affairs are settled otherwise than through the instrumentality of political parties, strong partisans, Democratic or Republican, will continue to be of use.

The latest absurdity of Sovietism is the announcement, by one of its leaders, that Science is to be opposed when dedicated to Soviet ends. Outside attacks on Russian Communism appear unnecessary. Give it time enough and it will die by its own hand and be interred in its own mistakes.

In the closing hours of its session, a state legislature has made Herculean efforts "to clear its desks." If the law makers had exerted the same amount of energy in an attempt to clear their minds, the statute books probably would have reflected greater credit upon them.

The people in North Tyrol have appealed to President Hoover to rectify a World War mistake, which consisted in turning South Tyrol over to Italy. Our most vivid recollection of Tyrol is that in the old school-days we had to start with knocking knees and declaim about Anreas Hofer, the George Washington of that country, who lay in a cell in Mantua, all cluttered up with chains; but we bear no ill on that account, and trust that his successors may get what they go after.

It is said that Japan, England, Italy and France will agree on a plan for smaller warships. The Navy League of the United States argues that we need larger fighting machines than those contemplated, on account of the fact that this country is not self-supporting, and must bring in its supplies over sea routes that are longer and more difficult to guard than those that Europe must depend upon. The argument is patriotic, but not compelling. It seems that the United States is capable of taking her place, and holding her own, under almost any general disarmament program.

In the late Spanish elections, those in favor of a Republic brought the days of King Alfonso to an end. In our own country, an oil official says that the consumer is not taken into consideration by him at all. This sounds like ring stuff. His own head may come off, along with that of King Al, for a United States Senator, of a breed not to be trifled with, has it in mind to make it a public utility, and to man-handle operators accordingly.

Letters from a former President of the United States, about which the veil of mystery has been thrown, turn out to be nothing more than part of a familiar correspondence, carried on with an old neighbor in the home town. Muck rakers long ago pushed Daniel Webster into the mire, and biographers of that cast have performed a like service for Washington and Lincoln. Nothing is quite so easy to corrupt as abuse of prominent persons, the public likes the unusual, and the money incentive will always tempt the base-minded to try to prove that the idol has feet of clay.

New York is probing underworld affairs, and a fresh broom, in the form of a new mayor, promises to sweep Chicago door step clean. Aside from the fact that a greater measure of order may come to the particular areas mentioned, the power of example will work good to smaller municipalities. Into what untold field of activity, however, will the crooks migrate, when New York and Chicago become too hot for them?

Lake Catherine May Be Federal Bird Preserve

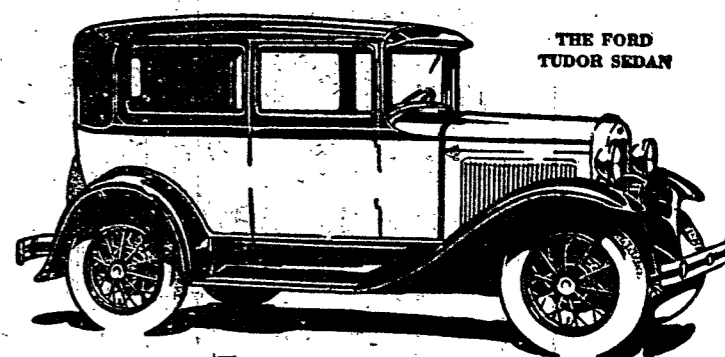

A survey of Lake Catherine and adjoining territory began Tuesday by G. D. Chittick and P. T. Kreager, junior foresters of the Federal Bureau of Biological Survey, as a proposed site for migratory bird refuge.

The territory comprises some 20,000 acres and the two foresters are of the opinion that the refuge will most likely be placed there.

A bill was passed by Congress in 1929 authorizing the establishment of a series of bird refuges in the line of migratory bird flight. Several sites in Louisiana have been suggested to the migratory bird commission, and following the report of biologists on the advisability of the spots as bird refuges, the land must be apraised and reported on by junior foresters.

ped to its night's rest, I'd listen to the interesting stories Mr. Avery had to tell. Of what Hayes said and Tilden did, of the successes he has witnessed and of the failures that could have been avoided. Of the fish trials and the coin hunts of long ago. Of how after all, the greatest achievements in life are attained by bringing happiness to others.

FORD RELIABILITY

Long, hard use shows the value of good materials and simplicity of design

EVERYWHERE you go you hear reports of the good performance and reliability of the Ford.

One owner writes—"The Ford Tudor Sedan I am driving has covered 59,300 miles through all kinds of weather. It is still giving perfect satisfaction."

Another owner describes a trip of 3217 miles in 95 hours over bad roads and through heavy rain and sleet in the mountains. "Throughout the entire trip," he writes, "the Ford performed excellently and no mechanical trouble of any kind was experienced. The shatter-proof glass undoubtedly saved us from serious injury when a prairie chicken struck the windshield while we were traveling at 65 miles an hour."

See the nearest dealer and have him give you a demonstration ride in the Ford. Then, from your own personal experience, you will know that it brings you everything you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

SPORTS AT STANISLAUS

BASEBALL LEAGUES.

Last Saturday there was a shake-up in the leagues. Pat Wilson and Ben Lilley had the best teams as shown by the fact that they had won both of their games. The change in the leagues will give the younger boys a chance to show their ability in baseball. So now, we have two leagues, the major and the minor. The captains for the major leagues are: Pat Wilson, Gremlion, Vallon, and Lacour. For the minor they are Hynes, Vicknar, Lang and Umbach.

The first game of the major league was played Saturday afternoon, at Wilson's defeated Vallon by a count of 11-3. Pat Wilson was the star for his team with a homer, a double, and a single in three trips to the plate. The game was tight until the last inning when Lader appeared to be blown up. Bob Lilley did great pitching for his team and has a good career in baseball before him. Bob is a regular on the Aberdeen, Mississippi town nine. Incidentally, Guy Bush was once a pitcher for the Aberdeen team and this is where he got his start; he is now with the Chicago Cubs.

Sunday morning Lang's team played Vicknar's team. There were many home-head plays on the part of Pete Lang that will go down in history at Stanislaus. With all these errors, Pete carried his team to a victory over Vicknar's team by a count of 10-4.

JUNIOR LEAGUE "A" NOTES.

All eyes in the Junior yard eagerly watched Brother Conrad's desk for the official call for "After Easter" baseball; on last Monday afternoon the agreeable news came that four boys eager to play baseball and anxious to make the Junior team responded to the call. Brother Conrad broke the silence by thanking each and every boy for the fine spirit he had so far shown in athletics. In his talk, Brother Conrad stressed the idea of real sportsmanship. Each young man left the study hall with the determination to be a sport.

The boys were grouped into two classes, A and B. The bigger boys form the Class "A" league and the younger ones are in Class "B". Play was started Tuesday afternoon in league Class "A" when T. Sandoz's team locked horns with M. Sandoz's nine. The game was a pitchers battle until the fifth inning when Fagan pitching for M. Sandoz allowed 4 hits that cost 6 runs.

Gerchow played a whole of a game. The final score was 10-3.

The second game of playing was pulled off Thursday afternoon when App's team beat Stakelum's team in a hair raising contest by the score 9-8. Spence and Gianelloni formed a beautiful battery. Stakelum's team did not have the punch to come thru in the last inning. With none out, two men on base they failed to make a run.

COMMENTS ON SPORTS

BASEBALL STARTS WELL. PENNANT WINNERS. EXPERTS OFTEN WRONG. THOMPSON WINS. TENNIS OUTLOOK.

Baseball in the major leagues, got off to its best start, setting new records for attendance, with prospects of interesting battles in both leagues, although the National circuit figures for the better race. However, if one line of dope is uncertain it is sports predictions, and the end of the summer may find us chewing up these words and hailing the hot fight in the junior aggregation.

Personally, we don't go in much for long range forecasts as to the participants in the world's series, largely for reasons hinted at above, but in the event that any of our friends want to know what the "dope" says, let us chronicle the results of the Associated Press poll of sporting writers, not including us. Forty-one of sixty-four men, alleged to know, pick the Athletics to take the American league bunting and thirty-five declare that the Cardinals will oppose them in the series.

Incidentally, in 1930, sixty experts picked the Athletics and fifty-four picked the Cubs—you recall, of course, that only two observers were right in this latter league, the Cardinals coming through in the face of such an opinion and crashing the world's series cash.

Just to make a good case against the experts, Washington, selected for seventh place, surprised them all by making the Athletics watch them closely. This year they are picked for second place again, with sixteen votes to win. In the National League second place, this year, goes to the Cubs with thirteen, third place to the Dodgers with twelve. And, did you notice what the Braves did to the Dodgers when they began to play?

Carnera has been reinstated by the N. Y. Athletic Commission, as suggested last week, and perhaps it won't be long before the Sharkey-Carnera clash will be in the air, with all details and dope spread before the eager public. Meanwhile Stripling and Schmeling have notice of their battle at Cleveland, on July 3rd, for the championship, to be settled in fifteen rounds.

And while on the subject of boxing let us chronicle the victory of Jack Thompson, California negro, who came back and took his title away from Tommy Freeman, who won it from Jack about six months ago. The coast negro gave Freeman a bad eye and the fight had to be stopped in the twelfth round, a technical knock-out being recorded. Freeman surrendered on the advice of a physician, declaring he "simply couldn't see." The fight was not spectacular up to the time it ended.

Sidney B. Wood, Jr., Frances X. Shields and Wilmer Allison, Jr., will represent the United States in the Davis Cup challenge round against Mexico to be played in Mexico City early in May. Doe was not named, because he could not take time from his business. Besides, just for the pleasure of tennis fans, we might mention that John Van Ryn, who won the North-South tournament, and Sutter, are promising material and the country will probably have the talent to get the old Davis Cup in a few years.

Many would not include a chess championship in the realm of sports, but because we used to play the game, or try to, in our youth, we have a tender spot for it. Thus, we notice that Alekline will defend his title in a match with Capablanca next fall. Talk about slow play—well such is chess.

Ye have been fresh and green; Ye have been filled with flowers; And ye the walks have been Where maids have spent their hours.

Ye have beheld how they With wicker arks did come To kiss and bear away The richer cowslips home.

But now we see none here Whose silvery feet did tread, And with disheveled hair Adorne this smoother mead.

Like unthrifths, having spent Your stock, and needy grown, Ye're left here to lament Your poor estates, alone.

WAVELAND SENTINELS DEFEATED BY OCEAN SPRINGS CUBS SUNDAY

Game Resulted in a Pitchers' Battle—Final Score 2-1 Play Bay Panthers Here Sunday

The outstanding game of the third round in the Mississippi Coast League was the game played at VanCleave field between the Ocean Springs Cubs and the Waveland Sentinels. This contest lasted ten innings, and resulted in a pitchers' duel ending score 2-1 in favor of the Cubs. Hire was on the mound for Ocean Springs, while "Pike" Telhiard went the route for the Sentinels. The former allowed five hits and the latter was picked for seven safeties.

In the last half of the fourth frame Endt, Cub outfielder, went safe on Condon's error at third. He was advanced to second by Lader's bunt, and scored on Newcomb's Texas leaguer. This was the first and last scoring of the game until the ninth. In the final stanza Waveland staged a most sensational rally. Two men were out when Lott diminutive third sacker or the Sentinels secured a walk. T. J. Bourgeois, star short stop came to bat with two men out and plunked a two bagger in right field. Lott displayed some brilliant base running, and scored from first on Bourgeois' hit.

Among the features of the game was a one-handed stab by T. J. Bourgeois of Catcher's hot liner to short. After making the catch, Bourgeois caught Webb off first to complete a fast double play.

The game ended in the tenth when the first two men grounded out to Telhiard. Then Hire poled a two-bagger to left field to score when Endt hit safely to right field.

The Waveland Sentinels presented a crippled lineup. With Haas star first sacker and Robert Condon speed ball king on the sick list.

The Sentinels meet the Bay St. Louis Panthers at St. Stanislaus College Park this coming Sunday. An overflow crowd is anticipated as the two towns are hot rivals being tied in the league standing.

NAME SELECTED FOR WAVELAND BASEBALL CLUB

The name "Sentinels" was selected as the new name for the Waveland Baseball Club. The winner was presented by Rev. M. J. Costello of Waveland. There were two hundred and thirty six names offered to the judges for selection.

U. S. Daylight Saving Begins Next Sunday

New York, April 20.—Sometime after mid-night next Sunday, more than one-fourth of the population of the United States will lose an hour of darkness to gain an hour of daylight. Seventeen states will observe daylight saving time in some form.

Clocks in all parts of the country will be pushed ahead one hour to conform with the new time which officially begins at 2 a. m., Sunday, April 26. In most localities, daylight saving will end at 2 a. m., Sunday, September 27.

Paris, April 20.—Summer time went into effect throughout France at midnight last night, when the clocks were turned ahead an hour. Daylight savings has been the rule in France ever since shortly after the World War.

Attention

Do birds think? A correspondent writes that some robins that were in the habit of using his bird bath arrived one morning to find it frozen over. A consultation was held and one robin flew off and fetched a woodpecker, which soon made a hole big enough for their purpose. Do birds think? Ask us another.

MITCHELL 'OPENING GUN' TO BE FIRED ON NEXT SATURDAY

Mississippi's Political Battle Is Gradually Gaining Momentum.

Jackson, Miss., April 18.—Another formal "opening gun" will be fired next week in Mississippi's political battle which is gradually gaining momentum.

Attorney General George T. Mitchell at Pontotoc Saturday will place before the voters the platform upon which he seeks the office of governor of Mississippi.

A week later, Hugh L. White will unfold his platform of a big rally at his home town of Columbia.

Mike Conner, another gubernatorial aspirant, has not yet set the date for announcing his platform.

Stewart C. Broom, Lester C. Franklin and Paul E. Johnson, have already set down the principals upon which they ask the voters of the state to elevate them to the governor's office.

Big Summer Drive

When the formalities are cleared away by the six candidates for governor, the big summer drive for votes will begin in full swing.

The first primary will be held August 4, with the run-off set for August 25.

The victor in the second primary will take office as governor in January, 1932, with a new Legislature.

Mr. Mitchell has laid aside all early week engagements to put finishing touches to his platform to be revealed in the Pontotoc address Saturday. He has already delivered a number of addresses, touching on the high lights of his campaign.

Gala day is being planned for Marion county's celebration of Mr. White's formal opening of his campaign set for April 30. He is mayor of the county seat, Columbia, and in addition to his countians, plans to welcome friends and supporters from every county in the state.

Conner Has Full Schedule

Catching spare moments on the fly to work on his platform, Mr. Conner outlines his week with a "full schedule" speaking engagements.

Opening Monday morning at Pontotoc, he drives to Blue Mountain for an afternoon engagement, with the day ending at New Albany that night.

Tuesday he speaks in the afternoon at Nettleton and at Fulton that night, taking on three dates Wednesday, in the morning, Monticello, Itawamba county, afternoon at Marietta and night at Booneville.

Jumbertown in the afternoon and Baldwin at night is the Thursday schedule, with Kossuth in the morning and Newhope school commencement address at night the speaking engagements for Friday.

Mr. Conner winds the week up with three dates Saturday, at Corinth in the morning, Iuka in the afternoon and Belmont at night.

Mr. Broom will continue his appeal to the unshackled, unbound, untiered and forward-looking men and women who are lovers of human rights and human liberties, in his request for "a hearing" in "my political revolution that is sweeping the state like a tidal wave."

Mr. Broom speaks on his drastic reform platform Wednesday night at Raymond, Tuesday night at Mendenhall and Friday night at Brookhaven.

Franklin's Schedule.

Mr. Franklin after an almost full-time schedule, takes Monday and Tuesday off to remain in his office before opening for the week Wednesday night at Bay Springs. He speaks Thursday night at Collins and then at Waynesboro the following night. Two engagements are on Mr. Franklin's schedule for Saturday, at Quitman in the afternoon and Decatur that night.

After speaking Monday morning at Lexington and that afternoon at Columbus, Mr. Johnson will spend Tuesday in his home town at Hattiesburg. He goes into Perry county Wednesday night for an address at Runnelstown, and then the following night at Ellisville. Friday night he goes into Vicksburg, Mississippi, to speak at the Neshoba schoolhouse at Neshoba, winding up Saturday afternoon at Louisville. Monday he will be at Okolona.

MUSTER FORCE FOR FIRE FIGHT

More Than 3,000 Recruited By Federal Forest Service In Seasonal Battle

Washington.—Along the 160,000,000-acre front of national forests, units are being mobilized for another season's warfare against the menace of fire.

The forest service has recruited its more than 3,000 fire guards, look-out men, and "smoke chasers" to spot the first wisps betrayed new fires which, if unchecked, may sweep thousands of acres of valuable woodland.

That these observers have proved their worth is indicated in figures for 1930 which show that out of 8,388 fires, 4,653 were extinguished before they burned a quarter of an acre, and 2,245 before ten acres had been destroyed.

The beginning of the fire season has been signalled by serious blazes in the Great Lakes area. The mountainous regions of the far west, suffering from lack of normal snowfall, are subject to forest fires.

Forest guards are temporarily removed from their posts to help in the fight against timber fires created by the 1930 drought.

It cost the government $1,303,039 to suppress blazes in its forests in 1930.

Of these fires 1032 were caused by lightning, and 4356 by man. The service has provided $2,050,000 for preventive work this year.

This will be used to build roads and buy equipment and employ men to guard the forests.

The service is organized into units of 100 men each, and is divided into 10 districts.

A LETTER.

This interesting letter was written by A. J. "Texas" Linam, recent breaker of State shot put record. "Texas" holds the title with 47 feet, 1 inch.

Dear Friend:

You want to know how I became the owner of a car? Son don't be little the cars like that.

I don't know exactly what I did to my father that such vengeance should fall on my poor head, but, evidently I did something that went against his grain that he would go to the extent of using civilized means of revenging himself.

When this contraption was brought down on my head "I mean figuratively," he grinned and said, "there she is boy." Surely if I die while she is in my possession I will go to heaven, for the good Lord says "he who has hell here on earth will have everlasting reward with Me in Heaven."

Before I go any further let me tell you about her. She is, I believe, the eldest daughter of Henry Ford, and you ought to know what the first attempt of any man looks like. Old Henry must have attended a St. Vitus dancing school some time in his life for the daughter has the acquirement down pat. Everytime I clasp the wheel of this old lady and get her galloping, I think of the first time I ever rode a bronco. The way she crawfishes is remarkable to say the least. Several times she has tried the old stunt of trying to give me the "roll" but I wasn't brought up in the Old Home Town for nothing. I give her the spur at the beginning and give her a little at the end and the end usually comes a few minutes after I get astride. She stands about seven hands and her fore hoofs are a dirty white, while her rear feet are proper exercise has made her middle mostly black. Old age and lack of sag and I am deathly afraid that her over-burdened spine will give way some day when I am on her. It will be just too bad. Oh no, not that, myself, she is having her sunset while I am just seeing the sun rise. However let's get on with the curry-combing of the old nag. Her capacity for food is enormous while her water supply—I know—dances good and well she doesn't possess the outstanding characteristics of the camel—a gallon and a half per mile is the way the wind blows.

It cost me two dollars the other day to have the old nag shod. When the man got to the end of the line, I was of a good mind to let him keep her, but he must have read my mind for he gave me a look that made my hand go in my pocket and out with the two plates that have the buzzards on them. I gave the old maverick the spur, although I stood a good chance of getting arrested for treating old age like that. The brand on the old nag is Tex '04. I don't know any ranch with that brand but maybe you do and if you happen to see that particular ranch, be sure and take her as much as you can. I want ever so much to see the home of a man with a horse like that. Let me conclude by saying that I am going to give the old lady a shot of the needle some day and take her for a good ride.

Yours till she comes back, Jack.

FISHING TIME IN HANCOCK COUNTY

Expert Says Weather and Water are Both "Right"

Bill (you know him)—spat a stream of tobacco juice all the way across the sidewalk the other day and glanced up at the sky with the eye of a weather prophet and volunteered to the few who sat around him.

"They'd bite now, fellows."

They all nodded in support of this fact and Bill went on: "I went down to the bayou the other day, and the water looks to me like it's just about right. The weather is getting warm along now, and if I know anything about fishin' there's going to be a mighty lot of good sport around these parts for the next six months or so."

Since the advent of the warmer days, and the prospect for a long summer ahead, there have doubtless been thousands of similar comments made in as many parts of the country within the past few days.

The "fishin' fever," is abroad in the land. It's just about as contagious as small pox, measles, mumps and the like. When the germ hits a fellow the water is just about right. No matter how the resistance he may have, this is one ailment that can't be cured in but one way, and the usual thing is the fellow that falls a victim to the disease, has so many relapses that he just has to keep taking the remedy week in and week out until the warm days have passed and there isn't any chance to make a catch any longer.

So, from now on the fisherman is in his glory. Every day from now on you will see one or more starting for the bayou or somewhere with a rod and reel, and a supply of bait.

Some will go for the entire day. Others will be content for just an afternoon of sport, but the road will be alive with them and the poor fish in the streams are going to have a hard time keeping from landing on some of their hooks, before the summer is over.

Other reports state that soft crabs and flounders are beginning to be plentiful and every night finds many out in the sound with torch and spear in quest of these much sought for delicacies.

God's Gift

By BERNICE MYERS.

Upon the crests of lofty mountains
Bordering the cool deep sea;
Shading the clear and sparkling fountains,
Stands God's gift—the tree!

O'er the low flat plains they tower,
Protecting the green of the lea;
God truly proved His mighty power
When He made for man—the tree!

His greenness bathed in morning light,
Shielding the flow'rs beneath;
Looming like shadows in the night,
Watching—while all things sleep.

Bowing in perfection to fair Mother Earth,
Loftily swaying, so free;
Man honors and praises the glorious birth
Of the grand, majestic tree!

OPINIONS OF WHAT IS TO BE DONE ABOUT COAST SECTION PROSPERITY

that he believed would bring great benefit to the coast. One is what is known as the "short cut" highway to New Orleans. The other is the extension of the natural gas pipeline to Bay St. Louis and Hancock county.

"Construction of a 'short cut' paved highway between the Mississippi Coast and New Orleans," Mr. Rea said, "is the most important work that can be done for the coast at the present time. With a dependable short route highway for motor travel, the whole Gulf Coast would quickly feel the beneficial effects on business and trade. Not only would the Coast be in closer touch with New Orleans but we would get more tourists to visit this section.

"Some people don't like the words 'short cut' in designating the highway. It has been suggested that it be called the 'Huey Long Route,' in honor of the Governor of Louisiana, in view of the fact that Louisiana will construct the most expensive section of the road, thus making the new paved highway possible.

"Extension of the natural gas pipeline system to Bay St. Louis and Hancock county would be an immeasurable benefit to this portion of the coast. Negotiations with that end in view have been in progress for some time and we hope something will yet be done."

Beautification of the beach and of the Old Spanish Trail highway, establishment of more places of amusement and expansion of fishing facilities along the coast would go a long way toward bringing better times to this section, declared Robert L. Genin.

"Beautiful scenery," Mr. Genin said, "always attracts people to the coast. I do not doubt that. Things that create a pleasing impression on the eye have a lasting effect. Our beach can and should be made a beauty spot. Some of the places on our water front are well kept and are a credit to the owner, but some of them are eyesores. All of them should be landscaped and planted with shrubbery and flowers. This would not cost much and the small expense to each property owner would be more than counterbalanced by the increased tourist trade and new population that would come to the coast.

"Our highways, particularly the Old Spanish Trail, should also be beautified. The sides of the highways should be studded with trees and shrubbery, making the view more attractive to visitors as well as local residents. Some steps have been taken in that direction, but they have not gone far enough. The job ought to be completed as speedily as possible.

"The coast is short on places of amusement. Something should be done to provide more recreation and entertainment for visitors and home people. We have picture shows and golf courses, but these are not enough.

"One way to provide recreation is to expand our fishing facilities. Millions of people like to fish. There are many men and women in this country who travel hundreds of miles to enjoy the sport of fishing.

"We have some of the best fishing waters on the continent. But our facilities are inadequate. We need more fishing clubs, camps or lodges and places where boats, bait and fishing tackle can be obtained at all times at nominal costs.

"If our people would increase the fishing facilities of the coast we would attract the attention of fishermen from all over the country. Hundreds of them would come here to enjoy the sport of fishing."

all of them would spend money. Everybody would receive some benefit therefrom, either directly or indirectly."

Judge J. A. Breath is of the opinion that the development of the agricultural resources of the coast would bring a more lasting benefit than anything else.

"Our section," Judge Breath said, "can produce as fine vegetables as any country on earth. And what is better still, our climate is such that we can produce them at seasons to command the best market prices."

"We can be successful, farmers should produce vegetables in sufficient quantity to warrant car lot shipments. This can be done by co-operation in shipping.

"Development of the vegetable industry on a large scale, with co-operation among the farmers, would bring buyers to the coast who would pay for the products in car lots on the railroad track. That would solve the marketing problem and turn vegetable crops into ready cash."

FLYING EAGLE PATROL HOLDS GOOD MEETING

The Flying Eagle Patrol held its weekly meeting Thursday instead of Wednesday at Dr. Anderson's residence on Union Street.

The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Boswell was exempted from the patrol for not being an active member and for not attending patrol meetings. Alton Erwin was chosen in his place.

The games chosen were relay races, scout tag and drop the handkerchief. At the meeting the question of making money arose. H. Bopp suggested that they should give a show. Michael wanted to catch turtles and frogs and sell them. The first plan was chosen.

After patrol dues were paid they were added up and it was found the patrol had 60c in the treasury. At 9:30 the meeting adjourned with the scout oath.
